RE: [REDACTED]
IKE SKELTON - U.S.
CONGRESSMAN - VICTIM; EXTORTION

Dear Ms. Parker:

On November 12, 1993, Congressman Ike Skelton's Blue Springs, Missouri office started receiving harassing and obscene telephone calls. These calls centered around an upcoming vote on the North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA) and callers stated they were unhappy with anyone who would vote for NAFTA.

On November 16, 1993, these calls increased in number and became more obscene. Workers at Congressman Skelton's office contacted the Kansas City Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI). A trap and trace was installed on Congressman Skelton's telephone lines in an effort to determine the source of these calls.

On November 18, 1993, Special Agent (SA) [REDACTED] contacted Assistant United States Attorney (AUSA) [REDACTED] and was advised of the nature of these calls. AUSA [REDACTED] concurred with the use of consensual monitoring of these calls in case a direct threat was made toward Congressman Skelton.

b6
b7C

On November 18, 1993, it was determined, through the trap and trace, that [REDACTED]

[redacted] was contacted at his residence, [redacted], regarding numerous obscene and harassing telephone calls which had been made from telephone number [redacted] which is listed to [redacted]. These calls, which have been directed at [redacted] U.S. Congressman IKE SKELTON, U.S. Congresswoman [redacted] and U.S. Senator [redacted] have expressed opposition to the North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA) proposal and have attempted to convince the senators and representatives to vote against NAFTA.

b7C

When the interviewing agents encountered [redacted] at his front door, [redacted] blurted out, "You're here about the telephone calls, aren't you?" The agents identified themselves by showing their FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION (FBI) credentials and asked [redacted] if they could interview him. [redacted] invited the interviewing agents into his home, and he was advised that obscene, harassing and threatening telephone calls could be possible violations of the Interstate Obscene and Harassing Telephone Calls Statute, Assault on a Federal Officer, or a violation of the Federal Extortion Statute. [redacted] acknowledged that he understood and wanted to explain these telephone calls as follows:

b7C

[redacted] stated he was strongly opposed to NAFTA and that for several weeks, he had been calling various people, including SKELTON, [redacted] to express his opposition. [redacted] became extremely frustrated, as he did not feel anyone was listening and he began having people hang up on him. Initially, he tried to talk in an even and calm manner but admitted he "lost his cool." [redacted] knows he went too far and lost his temper. He
